As an experienced Senior Project Manager with Rippe Associates, Jessica has led foodservice design projects across a multitude of industries: from small healthcare facilities to large hospitals in major healthcare systems, casinos, veteran's' homes, and K-12 schools in the education market segment. Her knowledge of project lifecycle ownership combined with technical design skills and a natural hands-on leadership approach all help to bridge relationships while bringing fruitful results on every project tackled. From beginning visions to the end results, Jessica's passion is utilizing her strong interpersonal skills to cultivate partnerships while achieving client goals.
